GET TO KNOW THE REAL MIRACLE CORNERS OF THE WORLD

Profiles Feature Stories of MCW Program Participants

New York, NY, September 15, 2010 – MCW has created a new social network feature, which profiles individual participants of MCW's various programs. The goal is to capture the unique stories of each individual in storybook style with pictures to give the MCW community access to the real people in the field who truly make MCW what it is today.

MCW will share the personal stories of its Community Center, Leadership Training, and Partner Initiative participants through these personal profiles. We hope to provide you with a glimpse into each individual's growth path and the role MCW has played along their journey.

This month's profile features Jackson Vugayabagabo, MCW's Country Coordinator in Rwanda. Jackson has allowed us to share his story with the MCW community and have an in-depth look at his involvement with the development of Miracle Corners Rwanda.

The profile for the month of September is uploaded through a Flickr slideshow on the MCW homepage (www.miraclecorners.org) for a unique viewing experience. To view the slideshow directly through the Flickr site, please click here.

If you arrive at the slideshow through the direct link, you will be presented with a full screen picture of Jackson. Or, if you choose to view the slideshow through our website, located on the bottom right, click on the play button and then on the full screen icon on the bottom right hand corner (click on the same icon to exit full screen mode). Once you arrive at the first picture, there is text that accompanies the picture at the top right corner. After viewing and reading the text, use the right arrow key on your keyboard to click through each of the 18 photos. (Please note: the slideshow may automatically move too quickly for your viewing pleasure, feel free to browse through the photos at your own pace by using the right and left arrow keys on your keyboard).

We hope you thoroughly enjoy our new social media venture. As always, please let us know if you have any questions or suggestions to improve our monthly profiles.
