MCW is a not-for-profit community development and revitalization organization. Our mission is to be a catalyst for local and global empowerment of youth and youth networks to effect positive individual and community change.

MCW WORKS CLOSELY WITH COMMUNITY MEMBERS AND LEADERS, EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS, GOVERNMENT AGENCIES AND OTHER NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS, ON A GLOBAL BASIS, TO DEVELOP PROGRAMS THAT ADVANCE CROSS-CULTURAL UNDERSTANDING AND PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE EDUCATION, HEALTHCARE AND ECONOMIC WELL-BEING OF SOCIO-ECONOMICALLY DISADVANTAGED COMMUNITIES THROUGH YOUTH EMPOWERMENT.

About the MCW 8th Annual Youth Leadership Retreat: July 16-22, 2005

The MCW 8th Retreat unites an international team of Retreat alumni with a diverse group of high school juniors and seniors attending school in the Northeast United States. Through dynamic, highly interactive learning experiences in venues across New York City, participants develop leadership, cultural competence and entrepreneurial skills and knowledge.

Participants will reside in dormitory space which has been generously provided by New York University. Alumni youth mentor high school youth, in partnership with Retreat Faculty and community partners. Fostering local change through global exchange, participants create sustainable networks of common interest, so they build their capacity and opportunity to do well and do good now, and throughout their lives.

MCW gratefully acknowledges the generosity of The Simon Wiesenthal New York Tolerance Center for opening their doors for our Open Doors and other Retreat programs. The New York Tolerance Center is a dynamic experiential training facility that includes state of the art exhibits, a multimedia theater, classroom space and premier training programs for youth and for professionals in education, law enforcement, and governance.
